

Climbing journal

Critical priority:

1. As a user, I want to be able to have my climbing journal so that I would have individual space to create entries
2. As a user, I want to be able to create new entries so that I could document my climbing deeds
3. As a user, I want to be able to save the entries so that I could benefit from them at the later time
4. As a user, I want to be able to write notes next to the entry so that I could provide additional information such as climbing technique, crux problems or climbing companions
5. As a user, I want to be able to edit entries so that I could persist my new insights
6. As a user, I want to be able to delete entries so that information that had become irrelevant could be removed

High priority:

7. As a user, I want to be able to specify the difficulty so that I would have more exhaustive information that defines the route
8. As a user, I want to be able to see the date when an entry was made so that I would know when the climb had happened
9. As a user, I want to be able to search through my entries so that I could find specific ones swifter
10. As a user, I want to be able to mark an entry as "project" so that I would have easier access to routes that I am currently working on

Low priority:

11. As a user, I want to be able to store the type of climbing (top rope, sport, traditional or free solo) so that I would know the type of belay that was used
12. As a user, I want to be able to mark routes as "finished" so that I would have an attribute that clearly segregates on-going and finished feats
13. As a user, I want to be to specify approximate length of the route so that I would know what type of rope is required
14. As a user, I want to be able to enter the amount of quickdraws/cams that were required to eschew shortage of equipment during the climb
15. As a user, I want to be able to choose between French and American grading system when making an entry so that I would have more accurate tools to document the grade
